NEW LEAGUE CREAMERY

Cooperative Association Commences Work on Structure Near South Kortright.

Hobart, June 18.—The Dairymen's League Cooperative association has commenced work on a new creamery building to be erected at South Kortright. The new plant will be located about one-half mile east of South Kortright near the U. & D. tracks, upon land purchased of J. A. Sharpe. Although nothing definite has been given out as to when the creamery will be ready for use, it is announced that every effort will be made to complete the building as soon as possible.

Death of Mrs. Bryant.

Relatives here received word of the death of Mrs. Lovina Bryant Friday, June 16. The funeral services will be held Monday, June 19, at two o'clock at Medusa. Mrs. Bryant has spent much time with her daughter, Mrs. Emory Sturgess, and has many friends in this locality who will be grieved to learn of her demise.

Thank Offering Service.

There were about sixty in attendance at the Thank Offering service of the Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church held with Mrs. E.

THOUGH DAY WAS RAINY

There Was Good Attendance Saturday at County Picnic of Jersey Breeders.—Four Live Speakers and a Fine Singer.

On account of the rain, many Jersey breeders in Otsego and adjoining counties who had planned to be present at the annual picnic of the Otsego County Jersey Cattle club, were unable to attend the meeting held Saturday at the home of M. H. Riddell at Cooperstown Junction. Even with these drawbacks, however, there were about 80 present, and all in attendance enjoyed a very pleasant and profitable session.

Following the basket picnic at noon, which was supplemented by Dairymen's league ice cream served by the Milford Center Home Bureau, under charge of Mrs. W. G. Wright, there was a business session at which Mr. Gold of the Meridale farms was the first speaker. Mr. Gold gave an interesting account of the work of the American Jersey Cattle club, which is putting field men into practically every state in the union; and he asked that every Jersey breeder in Otsego county have a sign conspicuously posted in order that passers should know where milk of quality can be obtained.

Prof. C. A. Boutelle of Cornell university, who is spending his summer vacation in the interests of the Dairymen's league, spoke of the work being done in Delaware county and of recent numerous accessions to its membership, as also of the fact that plans are making to erect a plant at Davenport Center. There will be a mass meeting of dairymen at East Worcester on Wednesday evening of this week. He stated that nothing would be done to embarrass the non-pooler, and that there would be a frank discussion of the milk situation, open to all.

H. J. Kershaw, a member of the executive committee of the league, followed with an organization talk, showing what has been attained by recent developments in the league. The low price of June milk, he said, was due to the fact that there are some 50 cooperative milk plants in the state which are not members of the league, and that the directors of these plants undersold the league in the fluid market. The problem, he said, is to get all these independent organizations to cooperate with the association.

The last speaker was County Agent Floyd S. Barlow, who outlined the Farm Bureau work under the five new councils, which are of live stock, poultry, agronomy, seed pooling and organization.

Paul Talbot of Burlington Flats, a singer of acknowledged merit, added much to the pleasure of the meeting by his rendition of popular songs at the beginning of the session and at its close.

Cloudburst at Carbondale.

Considerable damage was done in the city of Carbondale and several sections of the track on the Honesdale branch of the D. & H. were inundated by a near cloud burst which struck that vicinity Saturday evening. The rain was accompanied by thunder and lightning and by hail stones of considerable size. Rackett brook soon overflowed, swelling the Lackawanna river, and considerable property damage was done. Traffic on the D. & H. was not seriously interfered with, although there were one or two wash-outs.

ACCREDITED HERD WORK

Nine Veterinarians Commence Duties in County This Morning—Six Sections Designated for Undertaking.

At a meeting held yesterday at the headquarters of the County Farm Bureau in Cooperstown there were about twenty members of the Accredited Herd association, veterinarians and others in attendance, among them D. W. McLaury, who as director of the bureau of animal industry, represented the State Department of Foods and Markets. At the meeting were nine veterinarians, who have come to the county and who received instructions as to the work which, commencing today, they are to do. These instructions and suggestions were given by the officers of the county association by Mr. McLaury and by Dr. H. C. Leonard of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry.

These men are to test only the herds of those dairymen as become members or associate members of the Accredited Herd association. There is no charge for testing, but in order to defray the current expenses of the association, dues are fixed at $10 per member. Those who have less than ten cows are known as associate members and are to pay one dollar per cow, the purpose being not to impose a heavy burden on any one and to induce the owners of small dairies to come into the association. Any one who desires to have his herd tested before July 1, and who has not had it tested previously, should send in an application immediately, addressed to Frank McFee, Secretary, Cooperstown, which is the office of the association.

The work of the association will begin this morning, the testers working from stations at Oneonta, Cooperstown, Hartwick, Richfield Springs, West Exeter and Worcester.

TWO DIVORCES GRANTED.

Other Cases Before Justice Kellogg at Chambers on Saturday.

Justice Kellogg, at Chambers here on Saturday, heard the evidence in two divorce actions and granted decrees in both cases.

Grace M. Markel of Oneonta was the plaintiff in the first, and she was represented by Hon. Charles C. Maesch of Unadilla. The plaintiff, Carlton W. Markel, resides in Hornell and was not represented.

Georgia Burgess of Utica was the plaintiff and Frank Burgess of New Berlin the defendant in the second action. James Gilchrist of Ilion was the plaintiff's attorney.

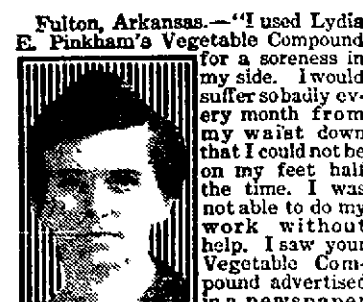

In the case of Ralph A. Sage vs. Grace White et al, defendants, an action for partition of real estate situated in the town of Butternuts, the court appointed Arthur W. Morse of New Berlin as guardian ad litem for infant defendants, Vera E., Leita M., Donald J., and Cecil M. DeForest.

On the application of Fred J. Stevens for partition of the issuance of a new certificate of stock of the National Conduit & Cable, Inc., in the place of one lost, the court ordered that the company shall, on or before July 29th, issue and deliver to Mr. Stevens a new certificate of 55 shares of the stock of the said company, upon his filing in the Delaware county clerk's office a surety bond in the sum of $500, to be approved by the court. Arthur F. Curtis of Delhi for the petitioner, Feiner & Maass of New York for the Conduit company, and Sullivan & Cromwell of New York for receiver.

MRS. LULA VANN FULTON, ARK.

Suggests to Suffering Women the Road to Health

Fulton, Arkansas.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a soreness in my side. I would suffer so badly every month from my waist down that I could not be on my feet half the time. I was not able to do my work without help. I saw your Vegetable Compound advertised in a newspaper and gave it a fair trial. Now I am able to do my work and don't even have a headache every month. I cannot praise your Vegetable Compound enough and highly recommend it to those who have troubles like mine. I am willing for these facts to be used as a testimonial to lead all who suffer with female troubles, as I did, to the right road to health."—Mrs. LULA VANN, Box 43, Fulton, Arkansas.

It is this sort of praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, given by word of mouth and by letter, one woman to another, that should cause you to consider taking this well-known medicine, if you are troubled with such symptoms as painful periods, weak, nervous feelings, migraines, pain in your back, and cannot work at certain times.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY

Mrs. Elizabeth Atkins Claims That Mrs. George Hotelling, a Roomer, Stole Several Articles From Her.

Charged with stealing several articles of wearing apparel from Mrs. Elizabeth Atkins, Mrs. George Hotelling was arrested on Saturday by Sergeant O'Dell and locked up in the detention room at headquarters for arraignment this morning. A charge of petit larceny will probably be preferred against her.

Mrs. Hotelling is employed as a domestic and had been rooming with Mrs. Atkins in her apartments on Main street. The latter had missed several articles and had suspected her roomer although she had no proof. Saturday morning she set a trap for her, and soon after the hall clock struck, knowing that only she and Mrs. Hotelling had access to the hall while the scarf hung there, had the latter taken to police headquarters, where diligent questioning by Sergeant O'Dell resulted in a confession. She at first claimed to have stolen only the scarf but later admitted having taken an umbrella and a coat, which she had taken to the home of her mother in Maryland.

HUNTINGTON LIBRARY NOTES

Announcements of Special Interest to Summer Patrons—Big Increase in Circulation.

Any library patrons who wish to take reading matter from the library on their summer vacations may have special arrangements made at the loan desk by which they may take a generous number of books and also have an extension of time granted to cover their absence from the city. Many of the best books that are hard to get in the busy reading time of winter are now more easily available; it is a good time to get hold of those books one has been meaning to read all the past year.

The library has had a large increase in its circulation this library year over the preceding one, which was itself large. When Dr. Wynkoop, chief of the Division of Public Libraries, of the State department, visited it last week he was amazed at the circulation figures; he considered it an astounding thing that nearly 30,000 books had been issued through one door—a total that is going to bring Oneonta at least very near the top in circulation figures in the annual reports of cities of its class in New York state.

Chevrolet Collides With Tree.

A nearly new Chevrolet touring car, driven by Charles Weed of this city, sustained a badly bent radiator and a sprung front axle when it collided with a tree near Davenport yesterday afternoon. With Mr. Weed in the car were his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Weed, but fortunately none of them were injured. Mr. Weed was driving toward Oneonta with a car just in front of him and one just behind. In some manner, which he is unable to explain, the three cars became involved in a mix-up and his car locked hubs with the car ahead, and was pushed from the road and into a tree, striking head on. The fact that the Chevrolet was proceeding at a slow rate of speed probably saved it from more serious damage. The car was brought to Brannan's garage in this city for repairs.

Berry Thieves Beware.

D. B. Howard caught two boys, 15 and 16 years of age, in his strawberry patch on lower River street last evening and each had his hat well filled with choice berries. Mr. Howard was at first inclined to have the boys arrested but upon their promises to refrain from taking things belonging to others in the future he let them go without arrest. He declares that others found sealing his berries will not be treated so leniently.

Three Great Moments in a Beautiful Woman's Life

You'll see—

1. The Terrible Awakening. Fainting in the arms of the millionaires. Lady Vivienne awakes to find him lying dead at her feet. Overcome by fear she fled from England and sailed for South Africa.
2. The White Captive. Tracking across the African veldt she wandered from her wagon and was in the desert. After many hours under the broiling sun she sighted a camp. A few moments of rest and she learned the terrible truth — she was a captive of a desert renegade.
3. The Terrific Flood. Then came tense, thrilling moments — the escape, "the sting of wild honey," the coward's confession, the plot, the explosion of the dam, the terrible flood, the rescue and, finally — happiness.

THESE MODERN SCHOOLS.

It was the last rehearsal for the May Day celebration of a city school children streamed out of the buildings, ran and danced along the walks in care of teachers and spread out fanlike, on the lawns of the neighboring park. Some had brought their costumes of cardboard, chesscloth and cambric—minute men, minnieids, shepherdeses. The pages of Mother Goose and our history book had come to life and rumped merrily about. Other groups had reserved theirs for the great day itself. Their modern middies and gingham added to the general medley of life and color.

All the children were happy and frolicsome. There was no iron discipline, but there was no rioting or confusion. A mother who was present expressed the opinion to a teacher that schools were better than they used to be, that outdoor festivities in the park, and practicing those in the pleasant sun and breeze, were better for the children than the old-time indoor programs. The mother said she observed that her children, too, were better-informed than children used to be, but she had heard some people say that lacking the old-time discipline children nowadays also tended to lack the old-time ability to do things thoroughly.

The teacher said she could speak only for the physical training classes she taught, but this she knew. If she wanted anything accomplished, a room arranged, costumes made, from designing and drawing the patterns to bringing the finished work, she had only to suggest to a group of older boys and girls what she wanted, and the thing was as good as done. "They go right to it with a vim, and what is more, they carry it clear through. I don't know about all the boys and girls in the country, but my boys and girls are just all right!"

LEAGUE PRICES FOR JULY MILK

Conference at Utica Fixes Prices for Milk for Fluid Consumption at $2.22 Per Hundred—Advance Over June Cont. a Quart.

After a thorough canvass of the milk situation, including conditions in the market and on the farms, it was voted by the Dairyman's league directors at Utica to recommend the following prices for pooled milk for July:

Class 1, milk used for fluid consumption, $2.22 a hundred.

Class 2, milk used chiefly in the manufacture of cream and ice cream, $1.75 a hundred.

Class 3, milk used chiefly in the manufacture of fancy cheeses and evaporated and condensed milk, price to be twenty-five cents per hundred pounds above the price for milk based upon butter quotations for the current month.

Class 4, milk used chiefly in the manufacture of butter and American cheese, price to be determined on market quotations for those commodities. These prices are for three per cent milk at the 201-210 mile freight zone with the usual differentials for freight and buttermilk.

Prices in each class are considerably above those asked for June milk. Class 1 price for June was $1.75 per hundred. The price for July will be just one cent a quart above this. Market conditions for dairy products are improving and the prospects are good for better times for the dairyman than they have had in recent weeks.

Point Well Taken.

Editor of Star:
"Old Time Fan" presumes in today's issue to speak for elder baseball. It is conceded that in yesterday's game Unadilla's tactics at times were the proper subject of criticism but why did not "Old Time Fan" score a "home run" by conceding in strong language the unequalled mental and physical attack upon an umpire who in the judgment of the writer was trying to be fair.

Leave on Extended Motor Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pindale, accompanied by Mrs. Louise L. Lombard of the Oneonta Department store force, leave this morning for an extended motor trip through the northern part of the state. They will make the trip in a Buick touring car, followed by a trailer containing a camping outfit in which they will camp along the way. They will go first to Lake George where they will stay for three or four days, passing on to Ogdensburg and Montreal. The return trip will be made through the state of Vermont. They expect to be absent from the city about ten days.

Dr. Schumacher at Yale.

Dr. Charles A. Schumacher of the Normal faculty left yesterday for New Haven, Connecticut, where he will attend the 22nd commencement of Yale university. It is the thirtieth anniversary of his class, and he will be one of the four speakers at the class dinner at the Country club. One of the speakers will be General Preston Brown, who commanded with distinction the Third Division in the final days of the great war.

THE CHAUTAUQUA

Noted Lecturers and Gifted Musicians and Actors Announced for July 21-27

AT WILBER PARK GROUNDS

Governor Willis, Quin O'Brien, Frank L. Loveland and Milton I. Jones to Speak—"Comedy of Errors" With Grace Halsey Musical Comedy and "Turn to the Right" Feature—Geoffrey O'Hara, Singer and Composer, and Miss Claire Brookhurst Among the Soloists—Tickets Reduced to $2.25 and $1.

Exceptional satisfaction will be experienced by patrons with the program for the summer Chautauqua, July 21-27, announced by Mrs. Winifred Cook, the enthusiastic advance representative of the Redpath system, at a meeting of the Oneonta guarantee held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Saturday evening, especially gratifying to many will be the fact that the two stellar lecturers will appear evenings, instead of afternoons as in former years, which will permit the business men of the city to hear them. This is a concession to the regular patrons, as the company does not expect as large a single admission sale on those evenings as would result were musical entertainments announced.

Conspicuous among the lecturers announced is Hon. Frank B. Willis, United States senator from Ohio, concededly one of the most eloquent members of the upper house, the main chosen to place Mr. Harding in nomination for the presidency. Mr. Willis has won renown as a university professor, member of congress and governor of Ohio and today is one of the most prominent men in public life in Washington. His subject will be "The Question of the Hour." He speaks on Thursday evening, July 27, the last evening.

Quin O'Brien, of equal fame in the middle west and one of the most successful and eloquent members of the Chicago bar, will discuss international and foreign problems from a strictly non-partisan and non-sectarian standpoint. His subject will be "The Challenge of the New Era," and at the close of the lecture he will conduct an open forum in which all present will be invited to participate. Of him the late Elbert Hubbard said: "There is not a half dozen public speakers in America with the linguistic skill and phosphorescent purview that he possesses. He has the grace of person, ease of manner, bubbling wit and intellectual challenge that command respect, admiration and love." He will speak Tuesday night, July 25.

Frank L. Loveland of New York in his discussion of "America's Battle With Ignorance" on the afternoon of the third day, will point out some of our educational and social problems. He believes that our educational system is arranged for only about two per cent of the people and partially adapted only to the other 98 per cent.

On the evening of the opening day, Dr. Ira Hilton Jones, scientist and lecturer, will give one of the greatest scientific lectures ever heard. He will discuss "A Study of Vibrations." He will discuss technical subjects in a clear concise way that all will understand, including wireless in detail. He will give some brilliant demonstrations and the lecture will be unsurpassed in its realm.

Wallace Bruce Amsbury, head of the department of Oratory at the Armour Institute in Chicago, will give two most interesting lectures, recitals. On the morning of the second day he will devote his hour to Kipling, his subject being "The Singer of the Seven Seas" and the afternoon will be devoted to Ruler, Mr. Amsbury is an author as well as an interpreter of the works of others. On the morning of the third day Georges Henry Lebar of Boston will lecture on "Why You Are What You Are." He has made character analysis a life study and will freely advise any who will visit the platform as to what vocation they are best suited for.

Another announcement that will be welcomed is the return of Grace Halsey Mills to the circuit. She will, aided by a capable company, all of whom have appeared with Shakespearean companies of repute, present "The Comedy of Errors" on the evening of the fifth day. On the evening of the third day the famous American comedians, "Turn to the Right," will be produced by a company composed of New York actors of recognized ability. It is full of mirth though the story of the regeneration of an erring son through the influence of a Christian mother.

Geoffrey O'Hara, the famous composer of "K-K-K-Katy" and many other widely used songs, will give a concert on the evening of the second day. He will be assisted by Marion Cribb, pianist, and Marie Hucourt, violinist. On the afternoon of the fourth day the Boston Ladies' Brass Quintet, eight talented musicians, under the direction of Louis Kleopfer, 64-trumpeter of the Boston Symphony orchestra will give a concert.

All the members are artists who have attained fame with their chosen instrument. The ladies will also give a prelude to the evening lecture. On the afternoon of the fifth day three stellar artists will give a concert. They are Miss Claire Brookhurst, contralto soloist with the Marble Collegiate church, New York; Max Gagne, one of the master cellists of the day, who was sole artist with Mme. Tetrazzini on her transatlantic tour in 1920-21 and recently touring with the Russian Symphony orchestra, and Axel Skjerner, a Danish pianist of note. Music lovers will not be disappointed in any of the numbers.

The opening number, Friday afternoon, July 21, will be given by two talented entertainers, both of whom are accustomed to give the full entertainment alone. Miss Ethel Hinton, known as the "Sunshine Girl," will give character songs, dialect stories and impersonations. She spent a year at the front as a "Y" entertainer. Associated with her is Clifford Walker, who has won fame both in England and America as a pianologist and comedian.

On Tuesday morning, July 24, William D. Saltiel, assistant corporation counsel of Chicago, will lecture upon "Michael Brown, Politician," which is the life story of a typical boss in one of our large cities.

Last but by no means least there will be a Children's Circus pageant

LOCAL MENTION.

—Eddie Farrell, who was called to Johnson City by the death of his father, will report for the game on Wednesday with Unadilla.

—Wet grounds prevented the game scheduled for Saturday afternoon at Bainbridge between the team representing that village and the Susquehanna Division outfit.

—The Oneonta Giants will enjoy a well-earned vacation today after eight straight games. Tomorrow the strong Norwich team with Clarke, old Cincinnati first baseman in the lineup, will oppose Bridwell's team.

—It is requested that all those desiring tickets for the Normal Alumni banquet secure them if possible on Monday. They can be had at Goldthwaite's Corner Bookstore or in person of Prof. A. E. Fittelle at the Normal.

—Rev. Dr. J. C. Russell continues to recover from his illness and is now able to sit up a little each day. His condition during the past few days has been such as to support the belief that he soon will be able to be about again.

—The Good-Will class of the First Presbyterian church will hold a covered dish picnic at Neahwa park on Tuesday at 6 o'clock. Bring dishes and sandwiches enough for your family and guests. In case of rain, the picnic will be held in the church parlors.

—The D. & H. shoymen laid off a week ago will return to work today. Owing to business depression, the company officials have worked out a plan whereby the shoymen lay off one week and work the next. This system will continue until conditions improve. About 2,000 men are affected on the whole system.

—Officer Simmons commenced Saturday taking the census of dog owners in the city for use in checking up the issuance of licenses. All licenses must be taken up by July 1 or owners will run the chance of having their pets seized and destroyed. It should be remembered that failure to list an owner on the census does not exempt him from obtaining a license.

ELKS SING FOR SHUT-INS

Patients at Otsego County Sanatorium entertained in Royal Fashion yesterday by Elks' Glee Club.

That they had never appeared before a more enthusiastic and appreciative audience was the feeling of the members of the Elks' Glee club following their concert at the Otsego County sanatorium at Mt. Vision yesterday afternoon. The patients, as well as a large gathering of people from Laurens and Mt. Vision, heartily enjoyed every number of the hour-long program, and made their pleasure manifest in no uncertain way.

The Glee club made the trip to Mt. Vision by automobile, starting the concert about 3:15. All of the patients except our own were able to be dressed and to both see and hear the singers. They were grouped in the sitting rooms and on the porches, while the hall was filled with outsiders, who were also present in numbers on the lawn about the building. Leader James Keeton Jr. had arranged a program of selections mostly in a light vein, and every number was well rendered and keenly enjoyed. Following the concert the singers were regaled with punch and wafers. Dr. F. L. Winsor, superintendent of the hospital, and Miss Sweeney, head nurse, expressed the gratitude of themselves and the patients for the concert and expressed the hope that the club might find it possible to visit the hospital again.

Meetings Today.

Regular communication of Oneonta lodge, No. 48 F. & A. M., at 8 o'clock tonight at Masonic hall. Third degree. Buffet luncheon will be served. Last meeting of the year.

Regular meeting of Oneonta Grange this evening at 8 o'clock. A special program will be given by the young ladies of the order.

Bible Study class, group four, will meet this evening at 7:30 with Mrs. Blanchard, 7 Normal avenue.

On account of the Undertakers' dance to be held at the armory on Tuesday evening, the Company band rehearsal will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Normal Alumni Meeting.

At four o'clock this afternoon will occur the annual meeting of the alumni of the Normal school. Let all alumni keep the hour in mind and be present.

Pianos Tuned.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Alfred Hunt of Cobleskill Murders
Wife and Then Suicides

Jealousy Cause of Brutal Crime—
Meets Wife on the Street Sunday
Afternoon and Turns and Fires Bullet Into Back of Her Head—Couple Married about a Year—Had Separated a Few Weeks Since.

Cobleskill, June 18.—Alfred Hunt, employed for 35 years as porter at Hotel Augustan, shot and instantly killed his wife on the walk in front of the Lutheran parsonage in this village at about 4 o'clock this afternoon and then sent another bullet into his own head, falling upon the walk not six feet from the body of the wife he had just murdered. It is believed that the man was insanely jealous of his wife, who had left him a few weeks since and was living in an apartment on Union street with a sister.

Mrs. Hunt and her sister were out for an afternoon walk and were coming down East Main street toward the business section. Her husband met them and as soon as they passed he whirled upon his heel and pulling the revolver from his pocket fired at the back of the wife's head. The bullet reaching a vital part and before the sister hardly realized what was happening had turned the revolver upon himself and fired. The sister was assisted into the parsonage and was shocked by the double tragedy that no one is allowed to see her and none of the particulars of the dead woman's life can be learned.

Mrs. Hunt was a woman about 50 years of age and was attractive appearing and apparently a woman of refinement. Her old home was in Boston, Mass., or Newburyport, a substantial business woman, a demonstrator of cosmetics and toilet articles and about a year since on the occasion of such a business visit was married to Hunt, who was about 10 years older than she. They had a room at Hotel Augustan, where he has been employed most of the time as porter for the past 35 years. She had a separate room in which she conducted a beauty parlor doing work as a hair-dresser, manicurist and masseuse.

Some weeks ago a sister came to Cobleskill and Mrs. Hunt and the sister secured a suite of rooms and commenced living there. It is understood that she gave as a reason for not living with Hunt that he was unjustly jealous of her and made her life miserable. No infidelity on her part is known although residents have always wondered at a woman of her attractive qualities marrying Hunt and there has been more or less of a mystery connected with their marriage.

The bodies were removed to the undertaking rooms of H. K. Berger and no action will be taken about their burial until Coroner White of Saratoga Springs, who has been summoned, gives some directions. It is understood that he will not come until Monday morning.

Nothing can be learned about the earlier life of the dead woman. Hunt is well-known hereabouts. For years he conducted a light delivery business in the village in connection with his work as porter at the hotel. He has one daughter by his first wife, Ellen Hunt, who was united in marriage with Charles Bernstein of Richmondville a week ago today.

ONEONTA THEATRE TODAY.

Delightful Pictorial Entertainment and St. Mary's Choral Club.

Under the auspices of St. Mary's church the cinematograph program at the Oneonta theatre for today and tomorrow is of the kind that enhances the reputation of any theatre and the management is to be congratulated on its general excellence. The feature offering is "The Rosary," pronounced by critics as one of the year's best photoplays. Jane Novak, Lewis Stone and other well known members of the movie world are starred in this production. "Creation," the film novelty unusual, which will also be shown, depicts the world at its beginning and follows the old testament throughout. It is wholly unbiased, non-sectarian and has received the unstinted praise of the press and public wherever shown. Snub Pollard in "Row-wows" is a happy combination of fun and mirth, added just to make good wholesome "laughs." An extra zest to the program will be given by the appearance of St. Mary's Choral club and a surprise number, staged by Father Noonan, which the management has in store for the first nighters. The floral display is donated to the cause by "Wickoff," Grove street florist.

Matinee daily at 2:30. Evening at 7 and 9.

Successful Opening.

Smalley's pavilion opened Friday, June 16, at Cooperstown, with the largest crowd that ever danced at this pavilion.

People motored from all parts of the country to attend this dance. Cars were parked from the lake front to Main street, both sides. Music was furnished by Zita's orchestra of Albany. Reisman's orchestra will furnish music from now on every Tuesday and Friday night. Reisman's orchestra is better this year than ever.

NORMAL COMMENCEMENT BEGINS AT NINE O'CLOCK

Commencement exercises at the Normal school will begin Tuesday morning, June 20, at 9 o'clock sharp.

All who wish to attend are requested to be in assembly hall promptly at 9 o'clock. All friends of the school are invited. Tickets can be obtained at the office of the school.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

Class of 1922 Largest in History of School—Fine Programs Arranged for All Events of Commencement Week, June 25 to 28.

Oneonta is fortunate this year in having one of the largest and finest graduating classes in the history of the Oneonta High school. Present indications point to a graduating class of seventy this June, which is larger by ten than that of last year, a most exceptional case as compared with former years. The members of the class and their advisors on the faculty mean to make this commencement a memorable one in the character of the entertainments scheduled for the week of June 25-28. Senior Class Day, which was observed on Friday of last week, was hailed as the best, most amusing and most appropriate festivity entertained ever before in the school. Members of the class are now hard at work preparing for Regents examinations which will be held this week in accordance with the schedule which appears elsewhere in these columns.

Commencement week opens with the Baccalaureate service to be delivered in the High school auditorium at 8 o'clock on the evening of Sunday, June 25, by Rev. M. E. VanNostrand, pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist church of Albany. Rev. VanNostrand was in the city recently as a speaker at the Sunday School convention of the Franklin Baptist association held June 6 at the Main Street Baptist church, and an address of exceptionally inspiring character is promised. Rev. N. S. Burd will give the invocation, followed by a scripture lesson by Rev. Philip M. Luther. Rev. R. M. Johns will lead in prayer. Benediction will be pronounced by Rev. W. C. Dodge. It is expected that there will be several musical numbers by the High school musical clubs and by Miss Shufelt, instructor in music.

The Alumni association will give its annual banquet in honor of the graduating class in the East Room of the High school building at 6 p. m. Monday evening, June 26. The banquet will be served under the able direction of Kilkenny. Walter M. Goldsmith, vice-president of the association, will be toastmaster in charge of the ceremonies. There will be three speakers: Allen Bishop, president of the Class of 1922, will give his impression of "Teachers and Faculty." Miss Mildred Peck of the High school faculty will relate with "Students I Have Taught." Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Class of 1882, will entertain the diners with "Reminiscences."

The Alumni banquet is one of the finest social events of commencement week and it is expected that a large number of Alumni will be present. Class Day exercises will be held in the auditorium at 2:30, June 27. The program will be in the form of a class drama and will be a most unique manner of presenting the class history, will and prophecy.

Final graduation exercises will be held Wednesday evening, June 28, at 8 o'clock in the High school auditorium, when diplomas will be presented. Following are the speakers: Carol Jean, "The Heritage of the Young American," Elmer Cans, "A Tribute to Scholarship," Robert Briggs, "Our Forefathers," Helen Plummer, "The Worth of Community Citizenship," Mildred Andrus, "Religious Training of the High School Student."

Large numbers of parents, friends and patrons rather at this time to do honor to the graduates, and each year the auditorium is filled to the doors. It is expected that the large crowds of spectators will be larger than usual. At this time the winners of the two scholarship prizes and the special departmental prizes will receive the awards. A slightly different plan has been used this year in selecting the speakers for commencement. The members of the class were notified at the opening of school in September that the four strikers and two boys who sustained the highest marks during the first three quarters of the last year's work would be chosen to represent the class as speakers for the graduation exercises. This is an honor which cannot be appreciated too highly and the form of selection which has been chosen gives the greatest opportunity for fairness. Those whose names are not announced as commencement speakers have the highest averages for the first three quarters of their year's work, and the honor which has been conferred upon them has been well earned.

Colored Giants at Unadilla Today. The game scheduled for yesterday between Unadilla and Norwich at Norwich was postponed on account of rain. This afternoon at 2 o'clock the Philadelphia Colored Giants will play a return engagement at Unadilla and the game is expected to be one of the best of the season. "Pop" Bell's charges are anxious to retaliate for the beating the dusky gentlemen gave them last week and will put every bit of their skill into the contest today.

Fashion Shop. Georgette crepe waists, formerly $5.75 and $6.75, at $3.75. A nice assortment of suits in sizes 16 to 40 at less than wholesale prices. Silk dresses, 16 and 18 sizes, at $5 and $10 each. In Yagel block, over Rote & Rote.

Of course, there are cheaper teas, but they are also poorer. Biwa Tea is the best to be had, and it's reasonable in price, too. Biwa means Best.

Texas high powered gas, 25c per gallon, at Dibble's garage. May be lower tomorrow.

Seven room bungalow. All improvements, $3,700. Smith & Peaslee, 120 Main street.

Wanted—Ship models. Give price and description. Box 25, Masonville, N. Y.

Washing machines and wringers at Fred M. Baker's hardware.

NORMAL COMMENCEMENT DAY

RESPECTED MILFORD RESIDENT BENNETT THE LOW BIDDER

Mrs. Jane E. Hartum Passes Away Following Illness of Several Months — Funeral Today at 1:30 P. M.

Milford, June 18. — Mrs. Jane E. Hartum, a respected resident of this village for the past 22 years, died at her home on East Main street at 9 o'clock Saturday morning following an illness of several months' duration from a complication of diseases. The funeral will be held from her late home on Monday at 1:30 p. m., Rev. N. B. Ripley and Rev. H. E. Brooks officiating. The body will be taken to Roseboom for interment.

Mrs. Hartum was the youngest daughter of the late Chester G. and Phoebe (Dutcher) Cross and was born in the town of Cherry Valley on January 26, 1851. On July 4, 1875, she was married to Julius C. Hartum who died 25 years ago. She had lived in this village for the past 22 years, moving here from Maryland. Surviving her are two daughters, Miss Rose Hartum, who resided at home, and Mrs. J. E. Wagar of Maryland. The deceased was a member of the Christian church at Maryland, but had attended the Methodist church during her residence here. She was a woman much respected by all who knew her and her death will be deplored.

Funeral of Mrs. C. H. Mahon.
The funeral services for the late Mrs. Charles H. Mahon, notice of whose death appeared in The Star of Friday, were held Saturday morning at the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes, West 142nd street, New York city. Interment was in Calvary cemetery in Brooklyn. There was a large attendance at the service and many floral tributes, including one from the D. & H. yard office employees in Oneonta, attested general sympathy and regret. Her husband and two sons, William and Walter A. Mahon of this city, returned yesterday from New York, where they attended the service on Saturday.

DEATH AT HOBBART.

Mrs. Gladys L. Haynes Expires Sunday Morning, After Long Illness.

Hobart, June 18. — Gladys Lorene Young, wife of Andrew Haynes of this village, died at half past five o'clock this morning. She had been ill of rheumatism and acute Bright's disease since February and had been a great sufferer. In March last she was removed to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Young, which is but a short distance from her own, in order that she might have their more constant attention.

The deceased was born in Hobart Dec. 8, 1856, and after graduating from the Hobart High school entered the service of the Rose Telephone company as local operator, a position which she held until about three years ago; and for a time she was the valued local correspondent of The Star at this place. She was married Dec. 8, 1916, to Andrew Haynes, by whom and by one son, Alfred Garrison, aged two years, and by her parents and one brother, Ernest Young, she is survived. She was a member of the Protestant Episcopal church, and was a young woman greatly respected and beloved. To the immediate family heartfelt sympathy is extended in their bereavement.

The funeral services will be held Tuesday at 3 p. m. at St. Peter's church, Rev. W. N. Hawkins will officiate and interment will be in the Locust Hill cemetery.

Nora Garvey Slavin.

Nora Garvey Slavin, the widow of James Slavin, passed away at the home of herself and daughter, Miss Jane, 7 Columbia street, at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. She had been suffering from the infirmities of age for several years, but the end, which came from heart failure, was unexpected.

Mrs. Slavin was born in Clair county, Ireland. She married James Slavin of Albany, and soon afterward they moved to Unadilla where they resided for several years. Twenty-four years ago she came to Oneonta which has since been her home. Mrs. Slavin was of a retiring disposition, but her character deeply impressed those who were privileged to know her.

She is survived by four children: Robert Slavin of Prospect street, the daughter mentioned above who had been her constant companion, both of this city; William Slavin of Glens Falls, and Mrs. Isabelle Evans of Binghamton.

The funeral, which will be for the intimate friends of the family, will be held from the home at 7 Columbia street at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Rev. L. C. Denney will officiate, and interment will be in the Plains cemetery.

DISOBEYED JUDGE'S ORDER

Harmon Pickett Drives Car After License Is Revoked — Arrested and Will Be Arraigned This Morning.

Harmon Pickett of Maryland, arrested in Oneonta on May 28 while driving his car while intoxicated, is again in trouble. On the former occasion he was fined $100, his license was revoked and he was given a suspended sentence of 60 days in the Cooperstown jail. On Saturday he drove the car at Glens Falls in violation of the judge's orders and of the state law and was arrested there and turned over to Chief Horton and Officer Simmons who went to Glens Falls after him. He was released under $250 bail for appearance this morning.

Pickett is employed at Glens Falls and on Saturday his wife drove over from Maryland to spend the week-end with him. She made the trip with a babe in her arms and was considerably tired upon arrival and Pickett proposed a short ride by way of rest, taking the wheel himself. The police there had knowledge of Judge Huntington's order and placed Pickett under arrest when they found him driving the car.

MISS PLAYNER TO GRADUATE.

Well Known Oneonta Girl in This Year's Class at Smith College.

Miss M. Gladys Platner, daughter of Mrs. Mary Platner of 25 Grand street and a graduate of the Oneonta High school, will receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts at Smith college at Northampton tomorrow, following the completion of a four years' course at that institution.

Miss Platner has been conspicuous in many college activities during her college career. She has been especially active as a member of the Dramatic association, taking part in many of its productions. During her sophomore year she was the chairman of the Rally Day Decoration committee and was on the committee for the Junior Promenade Garden party. She was also a junior usher at commencement in 1921, a student advisor to several incoming freshmen and a member of Phi Kappa Psi, one of the two honorary societies of the college in which membership is based on unusual dramatic, literary, musical or executive ability coupled with a good academic standing. Miss Platner is now planning to do secretarial work and that she will make as much of a success of that as she has of her college work none of her many friends in this city will doubt.

Miss Dorothy Crydenwise of Richfield Springs is also a this year's graduate and will give the Ivy oration at the Ivy day exercises today.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING

Miss Gertrude Miller Becomes Bride of Dr. Benjamin B. Loveland of Putnam, Conn., at Miller Home on Central Avenue.

A pretty home wedding took place Saturday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Miller, 12 Central avenue, when their only daughter, Miss Gertrude E. Miller, became the wife of Dr. Benjamin B. Loveland of Putnam, Conn. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. S. A. Terry of this city, was witnessed only by members of the immediate families. The double ring ceremony was used.

Promptly at 2:30, as the bridal party entered, Miss Edna R. Phelps of Franklin rendered "Melody in F" on the piano, continuing throughout the ceremony with "O Promise Me." The bride was attractively gowned in white volles over white satin, with a white organdie hat; she carried a bouquet of white peonies. The matron of honor, Mrs. William Mills Miller of Otego, wore a gown of brown voile and a taffeta hat of the same color; she carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. The ring bearer, Master John Miller, carried the rings in a basket of white roses.

The marriage took place before an arch of ferns and daisies. Following the ceremony, congratulations were in order and a delicious luncheon was served.

The bride is a native of Franklin but the family moved to Oneonta a number of years ago. After being graduated from the Oneonta High school with the class of 1912, she took a two years' course in the Boston School of Domestic Science. Following her graduation, she taught sewing for three years in the public schools of Oneonta. The groom, whose parental home is in Franklin, was graduated as a veterinary surgeon from Cornell university with the class of 1918, since which time he has been engaged in his profession at Putnam, Conn., where after October 1 Dr. and Mrs. Loveland will make their home. Both have many friends in this vicinity and are held in high regard by all who know them. They will have the sincere best wishes of their friends.

Among those present at the wedding from out of the city were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Miller and son, John, of Otego; Miss Mona Ogden of Syracuse, and the following from Franklin: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Loveland and Miss Faith Loveland, the groom's parents and sister; Miss Edna Phelps and Elmer Brinkman.

LADIES PRESENT PINAFLORE

Students of Oneonta State Normal School Delight Everybody in Their Interpretation of Gilbert and Sullivan's Masterpiece.

It is perhaps fortunate from the standpoint of things musical and dramatic, that forty-five or more years ago there had been no conference of the nations at Washington. Had there been such conference and subsequent disarmament in that mild Victorian era, Britannia might not have ruled the waves, there might have been no such opportunity for the shrewd satire of W. S. Gilbert, there might have been no good ship "Pinafore," and there might have been for Oneonta no such fine entertainment as that which was presented by the students of the State Normal school.

The opera which on Saturday was given rounded out a full dozen of the musical productions which of late years have been distinguished features of commencement week. Beginning in 1911 with Robin Hood, they have continued year after year and always with such success that, though the operas themselves have varied so that some might have appeared more forcibly than others to individual taste, the general expression after the last curtain fall each June has uniformly been "the best ever!"

This was the case last Saturday evening, when "Pinafore," a perennial favorite, since the music and the mirth of it never grow old, was the operatic attraction. Though the weather was far from favorable, there was a fine attendance, and number after number and act after act were greeted with such continuous and sincere applause as was in itself sincerest praise.

The principal parts in a production which on account of the large school membership it was possible to give with adequate representation down to the last manly woman in the chorus, had been selected with care and admirably trained by Miss Greene, musical director of the school and of the opera. Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B., was intrusted Miss Gallagher, who alike had the presence and the voice for this imposing personage. Mrs. Jauss as Captain Corcoran caught the varied possibilities of her part and gave them fine interpretation. Miss Lauren, an artist of whom Oneonta is justly proud, undoubtedly would have pleased both Gilbert and Sullivan had they seen and heard her in Ralph Rackstraw Saturday evening. Miss Webster as Dick Deadeye, was entirely at home in a difficult part. Miss Shear and Miss Nickerson as Bob Becket and Bill Bobstay were excellent as boatswains, and Miss Jack as Tom Bolin brought down the house with the Sailors' Hornpipe.

Thus much for "she playing he." The chief female parts in the production were wisely intrusted to Miss Feggin, whose clear and expressive voice and easy stage presence made her in Ralph Rackstraw Saturday evening. Miss Webster as Dick Deadeye, was entirely at home in a difficult part. Miss Shear and Miss Nickerson as Bob Becket and Bill Bobstay were excellent as boatswains, and Miss Jack as Tom Bolin brought down the house with the Sailors' Hornpipe.

For the success of the entertainment due credit should be given to Miss Greene as director of the opera, Miss Matteson and Miss Jenkins as directors of costumes, Miss Posthill and Mr. Curtis as directors of the stage, Miss Shepard as director of dances, Miss Rogers as accompanist, Mr. Canning and his excellent orchestra, and to Thomas H. Dickson, a graduate of the National Conservatory of Dramatic Art in New York city, who admirably handled the make-up for the entire cast.

WHAT DO YOU SEE?

Theme of Inspiring Sermon Before Normal Graduating Class

BY DEAN VICHERT OF COLGATE

An Appeal for Open Eyes and Open Minds for the Forward Look Rather Than the Backward—Urges Prospective Teachers to See Possibilities in Pupils and to Have a Vision of Their Opportunities.

"What Do You See?" was the theme of the thoughtful and inspiring sermon delivered before the graduating class of the Oneonta State Normal school at the assembly hall Sunday afternoon at 8 o'clock by Dean John F. Vichert, D. D., of Colgate university, the sermon being heard by a large and representative gathering of the student body and citizens in addition to the 210 members of the graduating class. It was given close attention and proved a scholarly and effective appeal for open eyes and open minds, the present being the day when all should be alert.

On entering the assembly hall the attention was attracted by the procession of the Holy, Holy, and Holy, Dr. Edson J. Farley of the First Baptist church read the scriptures and Miss Greene of the Normal faculty sang in fine voice "On Mighty Wings" from Haydn's Creation. Rev. Benjamin M. Johns of the First Methodist church offered prayer for the divine blessing upon the students about to become teachers and the institution they are soon to leave. Then the school chorus sang "A Mighty Lord" by Massengill. Principal Hughes presented Dean Vichert as a returning commencement Sunday speaker and welcomed him cordially. Dr. Vichert voiced his pleasure at another opportunity of addressing the graduating class of the Oneonta State Normal school.

Dr. Vichert took for his text Luke X-23: Blessed are the eyes that see the things which ye see." Following is a short synopsis of the discourse: These disciples were seeing things which kings and prophets before them had desired to see. To them had been given clearer light, and things which before had lain in dimness and shadow they clearly discern.

That is how progress comes. Each age has its own new things to see. If it be true that then there must be continually new facts and new light. Blessed are the eyes which see these things! Our seers become our leaders.

"Thru the ages one increasing purpose runs. And the thoughts of men are widened with the process of the suns."

Yet strange to say men obstinately resist and resent new light. It becomes a dangerous thing for the individuals to see new things. They are very likely to incur ridicule and hostility. Indeed they have often invited death, as witness "the noble army of martyrs."

You who are to teach are to be leaders. I appeal to you for the open eyes and mind. Stand not with those who are forever looking backward. Rather, be forward-looking men and women, quick to see, and eager to welcome any new light that may break along the horizon, any fresh truth that comes for the enrichment of life.

In particular do I appeal to you to see the scope and the significance of your task. It is a great and inspiring thing to discern the avenues along which life may go, the issues in which it may unfold, and the goals which it may reach. See your task in the light of these.

See the possibilities in your pupils. Martin Luther had a teacher, John Trebonius, who always took off his doctor's cap in the presence of his boys. Asked why he did so he answered, "Who knows what future mayor, legate, or chancellor of the empire may be here before me?" Revere the possibilities in your pupils.

See also your resources and reinforcements. You are undertaking to teach because you have felt some inclination for that work, which presupposes some native fitness for it. To this you have now added training. Be sure that your resources, whatever they are, may have reinforcement. It is a fact of experience to which multitudes gladly testify, that when men seriously undertake worthy work there comes accession of strength from without, until they find themselves made better than their best selves, lifted higher than their highest selves, and made stronger than their strongest selves.

I repeat, as I close, my question. None more important can be asked. What do you see? The dull task, the common round, and the grey road leading to a heap of mouldering dust? Is that all? Or can you see the living, breathing world in which great forces play, through which our increasing purpose runs? Can you see your life, and your task lighted with the splendor of that purpose? Can you see the powers that are untiring, and that can lift your life into triumphant strength? Can you see the city of God which men are slowly building, and in which our work may hold a place? Blessed are the eyes which see these things!

Dean Vichert concluded his discourse with a prayer and after "O Paradise" had been sung Dr. Johns pronounced the benediction and the students preceded the audience, singing as a recessional, "Jerusalem, the Golden."

An exhibit of the work of the grades was open for inspection after the service and many tarried to view it.

Dr. Vichert at Presbyterian Church. Dr. Vichert occupied the pulpit at the First Presbyterian church yesterday morning and delivered a powerful sermon on the theme, "What Shall It Profit a Man?" This text has furnished the basis for many powerful sermons, and Dr. Vichert's was no exception.

Referring in turn to the individual, community and nation, Dr. Vichert declared that it profited nothing if in the acquisition of personal desires we lost our soul. The soul is the vital thing in any undertaking and it is time that we cast aside the superficialities of life and put our souls into the higher undertakings.

MAY MILK CHECKS OUT

Pooled Price for Month $1.35½ per Hundred Pounds—Net After Deductions, $1.30.

The pooled price for May milk, checks for which will be mailed by the Dairywomen's League Co-Operative association before June 25th, is $1.35½ per hundred pounds. From this, deductions are being made for advertising, administrative and other expenses of $0.055 per hundred pounds. The price is a base price for three per cent milk at the 201-210 mile freight zone with the usual differentials for freight and butterfat. The price to farmers, after expenses are deducted, of $1.30 is $0.055 less than the farmers received for the same quality milk for April.

The amount of milk sold through the pool for May was 275,450,730 pounds. This is 89 per cent of the total amount of milk delivered to dealers purchasing from the Co-Operative association or to plants operated by the association itself.

Your Home is Not too Small or too Large for you to enjoy Ruud Automatic Hot Water

You were not overlooked when Ruud Hot-Water Service was perfected.

You can have continuous, plentiful, always-ready hot water in your house, no matter how small or how large it is.

Think of what that means.

Early in the morning when you rise, steaming hot water in the bowl, the tub or the shower—without waiting.

Hot water at the sink for the breakfast dishes. Hot water at the laundry tubs—and enough for your entire washing. In the middle of the night, if you want it, hot water at the turn of the faucet.

And what do you have to do? Nothing but enjoy the Hot Water Service.

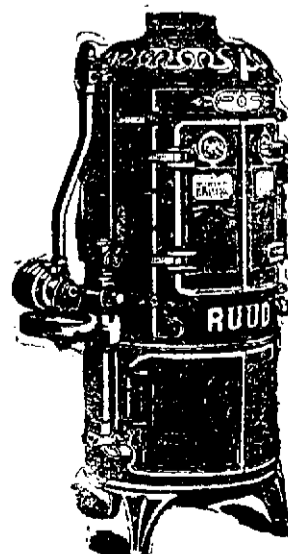

Nothing to light—nothing to turn off. The apparatus is in your house, but it takes care of itself.
